OF

YOUR GARDEN

Greetings, Dahlia Friends:

I hope you had a most successful 1962, and that (1963) brings forth the most beautiful flowers you have ever grown.

Within this list are some of the most beautiful dahlias grown. Each year I buy some of the new ones and drop some of the older varieties. Oft times a variety will fail to produce satisfactory results, and it is destroyed. No grower is perfect in his selection of stock, but I try to keep mine as healthy as possible. Extras are given on all orders over $5.00. This is for two reasons. One is to show appreciation for order, and other is to help compensate in case some fail.

I will mail planting and growing instructions with each order. Any special questions you have about dahlias will be answered to the best of my ability.

I would appreciate a self-addressed, stamped envelope when you request information.

Sincerely,

Haugh Dahlia Gardens

William S. Haugh, Manager

Dahlia Seed Growers--Growing Dahlia seeds can be lots of fun, and sometimes very profitable. No dahlia seed comes true to parent, but will give a wealth of sizes and colors. They will come double, semi-double and single, and usually show stronger growth than those from roots. To start seed treat much like marigold, zinnia or tomato seed. Start 8 weeks before you wish to plant outdoors, and when seed have set of true leaves transplant to pots or flats in cold frame. Set in garden later.
